The creative side of his brain is always in a tug-of-war with the pragmatic, logical side with regards to how he spends his free time. While most people in his "official" demographic probably love to golf, he likes to find a nice, comfortable place after hours and pound out story ideas and novels as quickly as his little fingers will type. The books are starting to come quicker now, and he's having the time of his life. The Joshua Chronicles are just the beginning, the tip of the iceberg if you will. As long as readers continue to enjoy, he will continue to supply. GLORIOUS INCORPORATED is his first fictional novel. His passion for the creative arts includes music and reading. His interest in writing peaked at a time when the need for a creative outlook was too compelling to ignore. The idea for this debut volume had been in the back of his mind for years. It wasn't until a pivotal point in his life where an epiphany appeared that he put pen to paper (metaphorically) and let the story pour out. His every inspiration has always been his family. With their support, he was able to complete this first book of a three-part series. The ideas for the second and third book started coming together as the first was in process. The story of corporate manipulation with a cross over to supernatural influences seemed a bit far-fetched, but he managed to make it work to create a story-line that is engaging and thought-provoking. He always knew the vision for the story, and the rich characters that he wanted to emerge to lead the readers "down the rabbit hole." THEFT is the beginning of the Joshua's journey to places unimagined. His third book will shake up more of Joshua's world, and provide a satisfying ride and read for his audience.
